BEE HIVE STORE
BEN HERMAN'S
N. HANOVER ST., CARLISLE.
Already we begin to see that the large stock of ladies and children's coats that we have on hand will give us an overcrowded store before a week. We want room and we will receive another large order to-day. We need room and the only way to get it is to sell them as low as our prices will let us. We want to impress our friends in the vicinity of Carlisle that we have the best assortment of goods in the world, and that we have the lowest prices. Remember a coat that suits you and that we have selected stock, and that we mean to dispose of them, without regard to value. Our prices must do it.

Lincoln's Gettysburg address, according to Mr. David Wills, who had charge of all the arrangements of the dedication of the Gettysburg Cemetery, was written at his house, by Mr. Lincoln, in the chamber to which he was assigned, the evening before it was delivered, on that great historic occasion. It was clearly an inspiration, coming from a great heart influencing a strong mind.

The Hamersly Opera Company.

The Hamersly Opera company will appear in Carlisle tomorrow night in "The Mascot." They just closed an engagement at Middletown's new opera house. The journal of that place contained the following:

"The Hamersly Opera company which terminated its season of three nights at the opera house in this place last evening, was decidedly the best troupe of the kind that has ever appeared in our borough. The company on Monday night produced "The Mascot," on Tuesday night, the "Chimes of Normandy," and last evening "Pinafore," all distinctively characteristic operas, in a manner that showed that the performers were musical artists of a superior order. The stage setting of the pieces were in admirable sympathy with the plot and action of the operas. All the actors were well up in their parts, but the performances of Miss Della Schubert, interpreting 'Germain', in the 'Chimes of Normandy,' and that of Mr. Ed A. McCune, who represented the part of "Gaspard" in the same opera, are worthy of the highest commendation. The baritone Mr. O. W. Ryle, of the troupe is also deserving of special mention. In short, in every particular the company is far superior to many on the road and their performance where ever witnessed will insure their popularity. The manager, Mr. Hamersly, may well be congratulated upon the high character of his troupe, and in the event of his return to Middletown he will receive a hearty welcome."

Every babe should have a bottle of Dr. Fahrney's Teething Syrup. Druggists sell it. 25 cents.

Arnica & Oil liniment is the best remedy known for stiff joints. V. H. Richey, druggist. sep 29 tf

A Good Sugg-stion.

The Telegraph makes the suggestion that the headliners of the opera house be furnished with a "laugh and cry goods book" in order, that they may laugh or cry at the right time. Sometimes in the most solemn situation, some one will burst into a laugh, and spoil the whole thing. At other times they won't applaud when there is an occasion to. Indeed we think a "guide book" is becoming quite necessary.

A Word to Opera Lovers.

The coming of the Hamersly Opera company to Carlisle deserves special notice. Miss Della Nicholson and Mr. O. W. Ryle, are with this company. Our readers will recollect both as being prominent members of John A. McCaull's Opera company. Mr. Ed. S. McCune was formerly with the Emmet company, Mr. P. D. Nares, formerly of C. D. Hess' Opera company, and Mr. J. Clarence Duff, with Ford's Opera company. They have a grand chorus of sweet voices. The rendition of the Mascot to-morrow evening will be a rich treat, and we hope they will have a big house.

House Cleaning.

House cleaning time is upon us once again, and the thrifty housewife has her head and hands full. House cleaning is a necessity, but we declare that house cleaning is not a necessity. We protest that we do not see the necessity of cleaning house all over at once; or even the necessity of getting it done in a specified number of days or hours. Some housewives think that if they do not get their house cleaned in just the two days or three days set for it, they have committed a crime. They would sooner die than not accomplish it, and many of them do. Then again they must clean at the time set. We have known people to clean on rainy, cold days, for no other reason than that was the day decided upon. It is time more sense was shown in the matter. Take a bright clear day. Do not undertake to do more than you are sure that you can readily accomplish. Take one room at a time, or even take two days to one room. What does it matter if it does spread itself out over a few more days? You will hardly know that you are cleaning. You will not be worn out; you will not take cold; you will have time to do your sewing (that work which is the house, and it will be a great deal better.

Try it and see for yourself.

Having engaged a practical sewing machine inspector I would say, don't have your sewing machine spoiled by inexperienced repairers, but take them to Dinkle's music store, where they will be repaired in a workmanlike manner and at reasonable prices. sep 29 tf
