PUBLIC SALE
of
VALUABLE REAL ESTATE
TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 20TH, 1913
At the Court House, Carlisle, Pa. 2 p. m.

The undersigned, Executors of Anna M. Woods deceased, will sell at public sale the residence of the late Anna M. Woods, deceased, No 148 South Hanover street, having a frontage of 34 feet on South Hanover street, a depth of 240 feet, a frontage of 166 feet on Sorrel street, with a depth of 125 feet on the right of way of a ten foot alley running from South street. The property will be offered in parts and as a whole, as follows:

No. 1.—That certain 2 1-2 story brick house No 148 South Hanover street, having a frontage on South Hanover street of 34 feet, and a depth of 166 feet to an alley; containing 4 large rooms and a butler's pantry on the first floor; 6 large bed rooms and a large bath-room and two toilet rooms on the second floor; 3 large bed rooms and a large storage room on the third floor. The cellar is paved with flag stone, and extends under the entire house. Hot and cold water, and one of the best outhouses with an opening that carries off all the sewage of the house. This house is one of the best built in Carlisle, and is in first class condition, being built in the Flemish bond throughout, and is admirably adapted as a residence, or for public house.

No. 2.—The livery stable now occupied by John S. Crakford on South street as a livery stable; having a frontage of 32 feet, and a depth of 116 feet to an alley, having thereon erected a 2-story livery stable. The walls have been so constructed as to run down in the ground so that all that is necessary to have a cellar is to throw out the dirt and the cellar walls are in place. The plan of the stable is such that it provides for being turned into two dwelling houses. In the carriage house is a well which provides sewage and drainage for the stable, etc.

No. 3.—The lot on South street adjoining the livery stable to the west, having a frontage of 30 feet, and a depth of 116 feet to an alley.

No. 4.—A lot on South street to the west of No. 3, having a frontage of 30 feet, and a depth of 116 feet to an alley.

Persons calling at No. 148 South Hanover street, or the livery stable on South street, will be given an opportunity to examine the properties.

Sale to commence at 2 o'clock, when terms and conditions will be given. Possession given April 1st, 1913.

May Not Announce It Until After Inauguration.

Trenton, N. J., Feb. 6. — President-elect Wilson was quoted as saying he expected to announce his cabinet selections by Feb 12.

He has let it to known that he saw no particular reason why he should do so because he was inaugurated, although he indicated that he would try to reach a decision before that time.

"I remember very well," he said, "that President Cleveland did not announce his cabinet until after he had been inaugurated, and there were speculations and guesses until the very day of the announcement." He hoped he would not find it necessary to follow that precedent.

Mr. Wilson was urged to appoint as secretary of agriculture C. S. Barrett, of Union City, Ga., president of the National Farmers' Union.

When asked about his attitude toward the Illinois senatorial contest he replied: "All I have said is that the Democrats ought to return the primary choice, and in view of the primary vote in Illinois I felt they were entitled to two Democratic senators."

NATIVES ARE SLAUGHTERED

American Lands Troops in Liberia and Bad Enemy's Stronghold.

Monrovia, Liberia, Feb. 4.—A cruel massacre with heavy slaughter was inflicted on the Kroo natives of Liberia on Jan. 17 by Major Ballard, one of the American officers assigned some time ago to the Liberian government.

Hostilities brought by runners say Major Ballard, with a force of Liberian troops, razed the Kroo stronghold at Rock Cass on that date after a severe fight. Major Ballard's force lost eight killed and Kroos wounded.

The recalcitrant Kroos were responsible for the recent arrest of the German gunboats Panther and Eber off the Liberian coast. Germany resident in Liberia had represented to the German government that their lives and interest were in danger.

BRADLEY MARTIN IS DEAD

Former Social Leader of New York Succumbs to Pneumonia in London.

London, Feb. 6. — Bradley Martin, capitalist and former social leader, of New York, died here of pneumonia.

Mr. Martin had been suffering from a severe attack of influenza, when suddenly developed into pneumonia. Mr. Martin was in his seventy-second year. His daughter, Cornelia, was married in 1895 to the Earl of Craven.

Recall Dupont Change Name.

Wilmington, Del., Feb. 6.—Stirred by criticism in rushing the bill through the state legislature changing the name of Alfred Victor Dupont to Hoover Calcoove Dupont, Representative Mooney, chairman of the miscellaneous committee, had it reconsidered in the legislature and referred back to the committee.

UNIQUE CELEBRATION

Held Under the Auspices of Afro-American Citizens of County

A celebration will be held under the auspices of the Afro-American citizens of Carlisle and Cumberland County. The Proceeds are for the benefit of Tuly Hospital. This celebration will take place on the 12th day of February, 1913 in the Carlisle Opera House.

The Afro-American citizens of Carlisle and vicinity, being so slow in some special way, their hearty appreciation of what their white friends have done and are still doing for them. This is about the only way, they feel, that this can be done.

Many of the leading citizens of Carlisle have endorsed the movement with so little population. The following are some of them, Rev. George Norcross, D. D., Rev. J. P. Koontz, Rev. G. R. Bernhard, Rev. Geo. M. Klepfer, Rev. G. M. Diffenderfer, D. D., Rev. A. N. Hagerty, Rev. Edwin H. Kellogg, Rev. H. B. Stock, Dr. John M. Beatty, Hon. Arthur R. Rupley, Major E. M. Yale, Janice W. P. HAT OF SEAL BROWN PLUSH

Model That Illustrates the Elongated Crown Which Is Now in High Favor.

The elongated crown, which is the newest development in pressed or blocked hats, is illustrated in the plume-trimmed model at the top of the sketch. It is made of seal brown plush and has a metal-shaped crown with a narrow rolling brim. The plumes, which are lilac at the stem, shading to brown toward the edge, are so placed as to emphasize the long line from back to front.

In the season for draped velvet crowns is surrounded by a rolling brim, lined with a band of small white feathers, smoothly laid. A fancy ornament made of black and white feathers is placed at an old, but becoming angle at the right side toward the back.

CLOTHES FOR SCHOOL GIRL

Lingerie Should Be Serviceable and Gowns as Pretty as Mother Can Afford.

Don't set lingerie so sheer and so hand-bedecked that the first laundering will leave it in rags. Nothing is more ineligible for girls' use than French embroidered underwear without lace on heavy linen.

Don't wear yourself out with your daughter's clothes. Too many are only a nuisance, as fashions change so fast.

Don't fail to provide for her as pretty and becoming gowns as you can afford. Appearances count with youngsters and many a little girl is needlessly hampered by the poor taste of her mother.

Don't be too sure you know what is best for your daughter to wear. The taste of sixteen may not be so good as your own, but it is less apt to clash with current midget fashion. While one is still young individuality in dressing is not popular.

Don't have rigid notions on underwear and try to endure them with cast iron promises. Most schoolgirls dissect flannels as soon as they escape maternal vigilance, and many a girl is made hardier because of it.

Don't forget that the surest way to keep your daughter well protected in rainy storms is to buy her a stylish rain coat, waterproof shoes and umbrella.

Don't spend so much on your child's earth that you cripple yourself and must strict her on spending money. A reasonable allowance through the year counts more for a schoolgirl's good time than an elaborate wardrobe.

Don't get too many things at the start. Every school has its own ideals of dressing, and your girl will soon be out of concert of her pretty clothes if they are not what all the rest of the girls are wearing. Better buy less and fill out when you get known what she needs and wants.

Normal Waist Lines.

There is one thing noticeable about the new blouses, and that is that at least nine-tenths of them are made to fit the normal waist. It seems to be quickly coming back into fashion. Many smart afternoon blouses are embroidered in crystal beads or in fine bugles and pearls. The embroidery covers the front and finishes off in a single line the unoutlaced neck. The sleeves are trimmed to match. In black moon this blouse can be worn over any color, and here bright emerald green comes in useful, and in fact any color can be worn under it. White comes out rather well. Evening blouses are more elaborate, and they are as often empire waisted as otherwise. All the same the normal waist is steadily and surely returning to favor.

Gathered Muff.

The huge Granny muff made of gathered and corded silk, velvet, brocade or chiffon is very fashionable this season. It is besides quite simple to make and looks much more chic than a muff of over-imitation fur. Blue and red shot taffetas is used for a pretty model. Two thicknesses of wadding form the lining on to which the silk is gathered and divided into pockets with ribbed cords. Wide frills of the silk finish off the muff on either side.
